Hello!

This document is a free newsletter downloadable for subscribers to Melissa Kendall's newsletter (melissakendall.ca).

This document contains paper dolls that you can print out, color, and then cut to assemble (put the clothing on top of the base doll). Each outfit is described in the book listed at the top of the image, in the chapter listed at the bottom of the image. For example, the first image is a cloak described in chapter 6 of the book Companion to the Count by Melissa Kendall, available on Amazon and Kindle Unlimited.

These dolls are intended to be printed on US letter size paper. If you need to print on A4 or other sized paper, or if you have any difficulty with the size of the dolls or dresses, please reach out to me at makendallauthor@gmail.com or on social media at makendallauthor@ (except on X, I do not have an X account).

Printing instructions:

1. Open in a PDF reader (Adobe, Google Chrome, etc)
2. Print on US letter paper. I recommend 65 lb card stock but you can use any paper your printer supports.
3. Color the dolls, if you want.
4. Cut out the dolls on the thick black lines. Make sure to include the tabs. You will need those to attach the dresses to the doll.
5. Lay a dress on top of the base doll from the same set and fold the tabs over to "dress" the doll.

Happy coloring and thank you for subscribing!

- Melissa Kendall

Artist credits

- Companion to the Count and Benefactor to the Baroness sets: pamelandraws on Instagram
- Mentor to the Marquess set: fiarlfi.art

Cloak (Chapter 6)

Companion to the Count

Day Dress (Chapter 7)

Companion to the Count

Evening Gown (Chapter 23)

Companion to the Count

Mentor to the Marquess

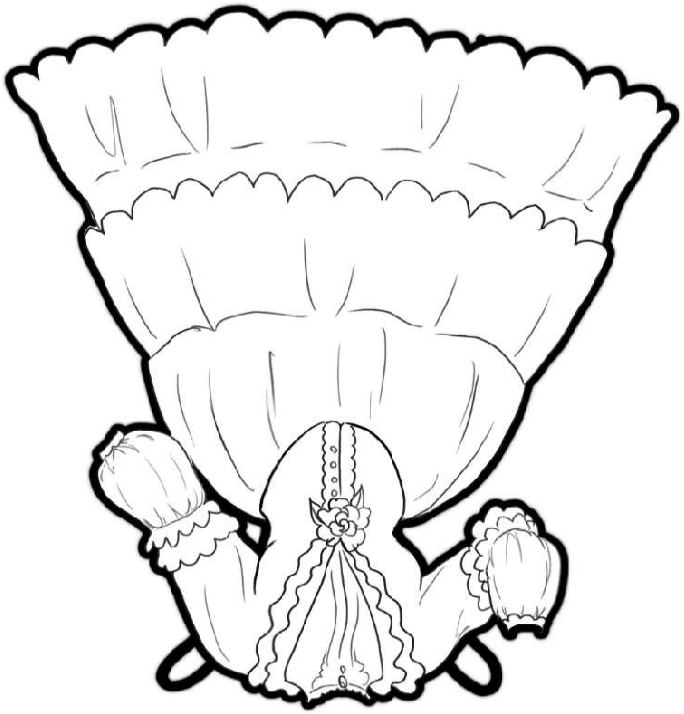
Shepherdess Costume (Chapter 17)

Mentor to the Marquess

Mentor to the Marquess

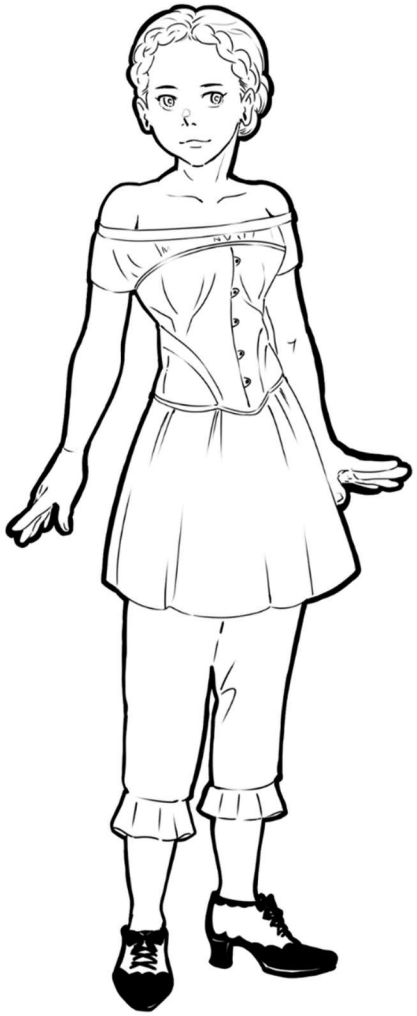
Evening Gown (Chapter 21)

Mentor to the Marquess

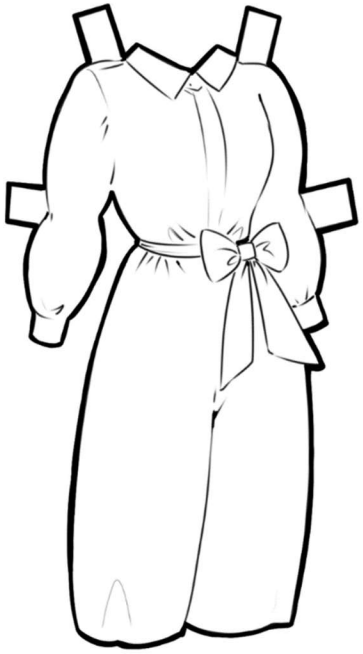


Day Dress (Chapter 3)

Benefactor to the Baroness



Benefactor to the Baroness



Blouse & Bloomers (Chapter 2)

Silk Gown (Chapter 29)

Benefactor to the Baroness

Walking suit (Chapter 13)